Light . . .

piercing the darkness

explodes . . .

Light by its nature illuminates. Just as knowledge illuminates the mind, our thoughts like the midday sun reflect the realities of life.

Each person within himself holds his own flame. He alone has the choice to keep it to himself or to share his light with another person.

By choosing to share, he begins to pass on his flame in order that all in the community may experience light.

For the community to be the glowing ray in a dark world, we must motivate ourselves to accept the challenge. Utilizing our time, energy and personal resources by incorporating to the fullest our total being, we can accomplish the goal set before us.

Christ is the light of our lives.
We remember his death by the breaking of the bread and the drinking of the wine.
We remember his life by the flame of his Holy Spirit that will never be extinguished.

DR. REDIGER accepts new challenge before him

"I have scribbled many poems—but have never written great poetry. But I've discovered something as I look back over a quarter century. In a sense, Taylor is my book, Taylor is my poem, Taylor is my song."

For thirty-two years, Dr. Milo Rediger has served Taylor University with a unique insight into Christian higher education. "My commitment is not just to education as a profession or even as a vocation. It is first to Jesus Christ in a personal relationship and next it is to education of a special kind, the Taylor kind," he stated.

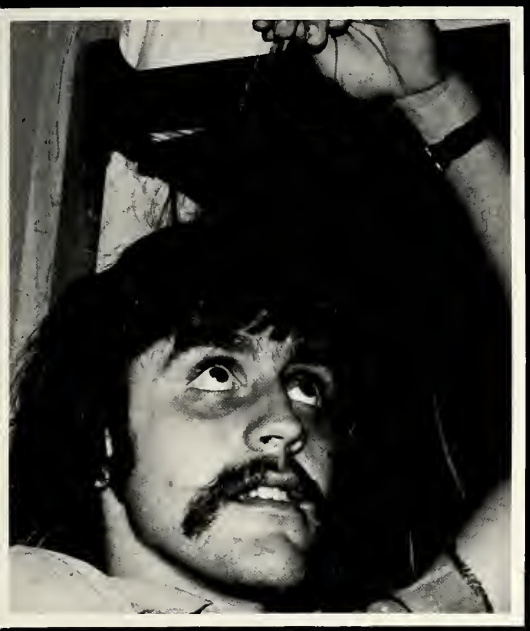
Dr. Rediger's guidance as president the past ten years has brought about the "whole person education" philosophy. On the other hand, the value of campus facilities has increased under his leadership along with an increased enrollment. Prior to assuming the presidency in 1965, he served as a professor of philosophy and religion, academic dean and vice president.

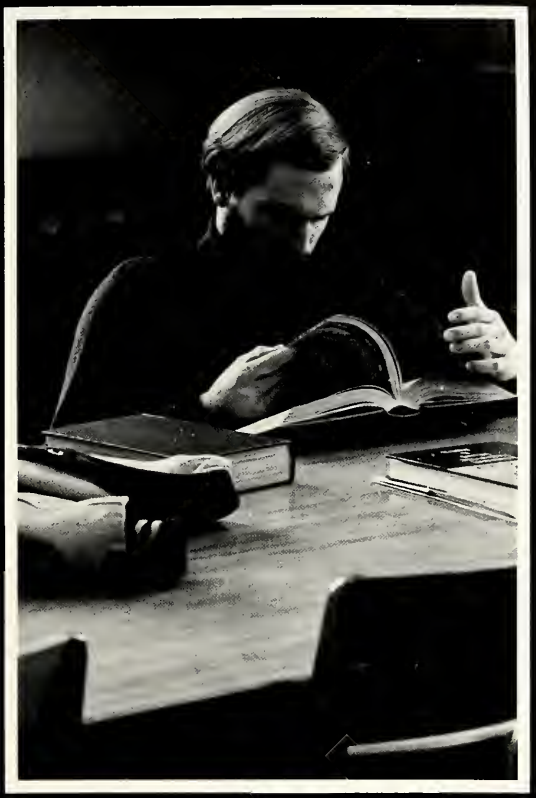
After graduating magna cum laude from Taylor in 1939, Dr. Rediger went on to get his M.A. and Ph. D. at New York University. Later he received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Asbury Seminary and the Doctor of Humane Letters from Greenville College. His list of honors is extensive: Who's Who in American Education, Community Leaders of America, Creative and Successful Personalities, 1974 edition of Who's Who in Indiana, and 1973-74 edition of Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans.

His participation in numerous education groups, Bible conferences, and seminars indicates his concern for ongoing Christian education. However, Rediger is interested in the student and how he fits into the community as well.

Despite his new position as Chancellor, Dr. Rediger's plea to students is still the same: "Make Taylor your commitment, your opportunity, your vision. Write your book, climb your mountain, add your unique something within the once forgotten framework of the great anchorpoints of Christian Faith!"

Dr. and Mrs. Rediger take a few moments to relax at their home on the Taylor campus.





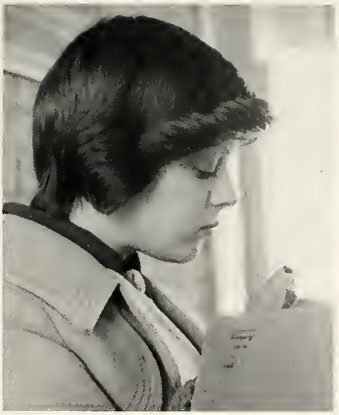
COMMUNITY LIFE

Community Life

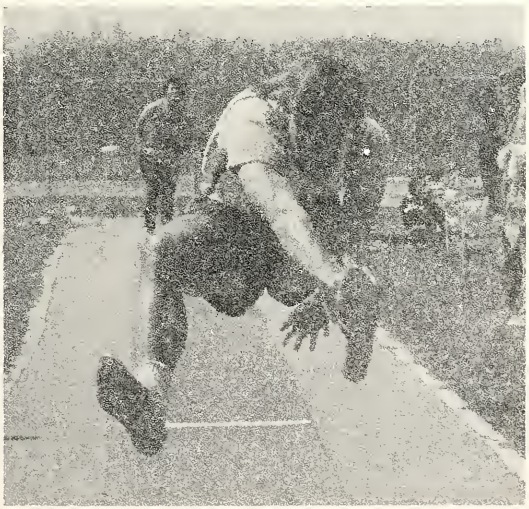
The beginning of another day . . .

Students are eager to take a break and relax between classes in the Union.

The "after chapel rush" once again disperses students all over campus.



Youth Conference '75 held some special spiritual highlights for the community.



Campout challenges new students

"Bring every bit of warm clothing you own and came along on the Wengatz-Olson campout!" This was the invitation to the students of the two residence halls early in the fall and the mad scramble for sleeping bags was on. After transportation to the campgrounds several girls became brutally aware of the rules of penguin football. The laughter slowly spilled over into the evening, with burned hot dogs and conversation being shared readily around the campfire. It was a chance to leave the homework behind for the relaxation of the woods.

Air conditioned vehicles were used to shuttle excited coeds.

Even long hair and woolen hats cannot keep the ears from freezing.

Students enjoy adventurous Au Sable

Relatively few students realize that canoeing down the Manistee River or hiking up to "high point" can be part of the Taylor experience. The campus boundaries are not limited to Upland's city limits, but stretch even to the northlands of Michigan. Between Mancelona and Little Twin Lakes, Taylor University operates the field study station, Au Sable, which is used year round for field trips and various course offerings. For some students it is their first chance to "rough it" in the wilderness, or to just get away from it all for an afternoon in the woods. The wildlife is just as abundant as the blackberries if the season is right.

Ralph Mello, Jeanine Flaherty, and Jim Isham start out with anticipation on their canoe trip.

Caution is needed when minor accidents happen.

The unseen wildlife is apparent to visitors.

Getting the boat right side up takes hard work and ingenuity.

After a strenuous day on the lake, warm clothes and a hot meal offer comfort to weary students.

Homecoming 1974

Banner competition was introduced this year as being part of student contributions.

"Being and Becoming"

The selected theme of "Being and Becoming" was reflected by the 1974-1975 Homecoming Queen, Jenny Wysong, "being His people we can be satisfied by what God has done, and yet be hopeful of the future and what we will become."

The weekend's activities were launched with the bonfire pep rally and the "snake chain" rushing through the residence halls. Following the Coronation in Maytag in the evening, alumni and students attended either the concert or "Trojan Women," presented by Taylor's Speech and Drama Department.

Homecoming events

Part of the Homecoming Weekend activities on Friday night included a concert featuring Dave Boyer and Steve and Maria. Following the musical entertainment an Old-fashioned Ice Cream Parlor was held in the Dining Commons, concluding one evening's festivities. With decorations supplied by "Farrells," conversations flowed about as fast as the chocolate syrup.

The Taylor University Concert Band presented a concert on the green early Saturday morning followed by meetings with returning alumni. Later the cross-country team concluded a meet with Earlham College by capturing its second Hoosier-Buckeye Conference win, 18-45.

Returning Alumni enjoyed the special time set aside to relive their Taylor experiences with old friends.

Part of every Homecoming is a football game, and this Homecoming was no exception on Saturday afternoon. With the event of threatening weather, alumni, friends, and students thrilled to a 24-7 victory over Earlham. During the halftime ceremonies, honoring the Queen and her court, four new members were inducted into the Taylor University Athletic Hall of Fame. Don Callan, Ben Mosher, Jack King, and Phil Captain were recognized individually for their outstanding contribntions to Taylor's athletic program.

Homecoming 1974 had in its essense the traditions of the past, yet the distinctiveness of now. With alumni congregating to renew old friendships and memories, Taylor students found themselves anxious to create memories for themselves.

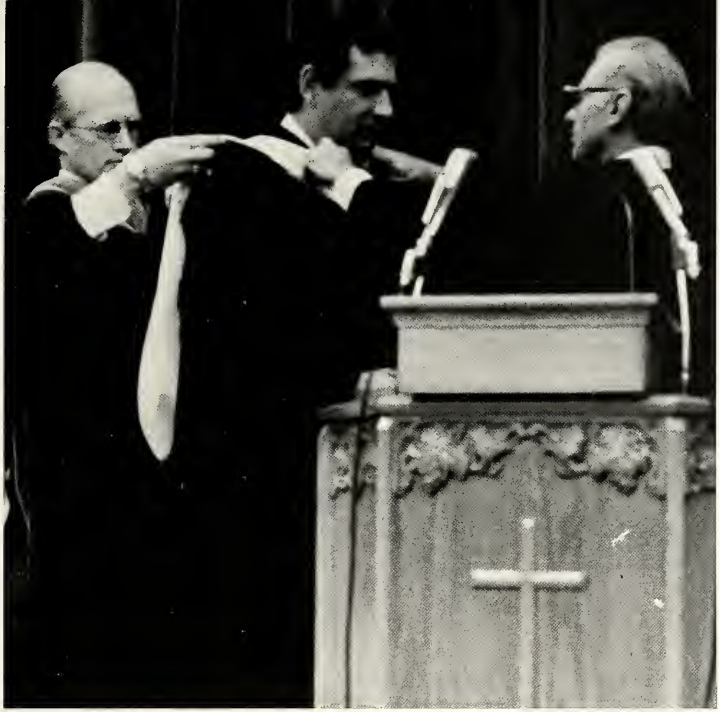
Visiting Lecturers Edify Taylor Student Body

The Distinguished Christian Scholar Lecture Series sponsored Rev. Charles W. Shepson.

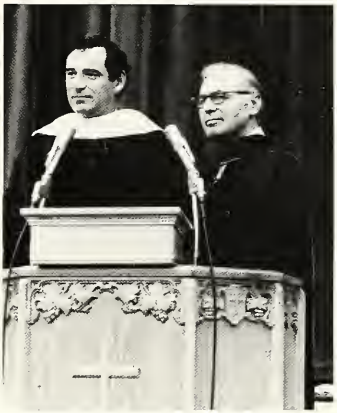
Shepson reflects his theme of "The Excitement of the Christian Life" in chapel.

Rev. Don Engram was guest speaker for the Spiritual Emphasis week in September.

Having been involved with Youth for Christ for ten years, talking to coeds comes naturally for Rev. Engram.



Douglas Coe of Washington D.C. is awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters.



Special ceremonies were given the founder and director of International Christian Leadership. Doug Coe.

Guest lecturer and prominent religious author, Rev. Ray C. Stedman.

Sponsored by the Greater Chicago Taylor University Club. Stedman initiated the first Contemporary Christian Series.

The Taylor student body was both challenged and enriched spiritually by visiting lecturers throughout the year. Many of the speakers were initiating lecture series for the first time in the Taylor community. With each personality prominent in his own right, their combination of presentations was especially stimulating.

Monday morning Chapels usually open with a selected song.

Chapel in Maytag

Chapel is held for Taylor students and faculty three times a week in Maytag at 10:00 a.m. It is an important aspect of Taylor's community simply because it offers Christian entertainment, a stirring testimony, and a time for quiet faith amidst a gathering of the entire Taylor enrollment. As one senior offers, "at times in my past four years, I have looked forward to going to chapel, and I undoubtedly will miss it after graduation."

Professor Clark Bedford delights the audience with selections from "West Side Story."

The assembly of students arrive and patiently await the start of another chapel.

Franklin Lusk displays his enthusiasm for singing.

The Westminster College Choir gives a special musical presentation at Taylor.

SUB Sponsors various activities

What can one do in Upland? The Student Union planned an answer to this question with activities for the student body. Name groups and famous recording artists visited campus as well as many mini-concerts were scheduled to highlight talented individuals on campus. Cartoons, movies, weekend trips, and an occassional ice cream social were planned so that students could schedule boredom for sometime other than weekends.

The Student Union

The Student Union serves many purposes for the Taylor community. Not only is it a quick place to pick up a sandwich and a doughnut, but it also provides facilities for studying, entertainment, television, and games. Most importantly, it is "someplace to go" when there is "nothing to do."

Ice cream is by far the most popular snack.

AUCTION!

The auctioneer's voice continually drones above the crowd.

Anxions moments in hoping for the right price.

The women wait, anticipating the right time to bid.

Excitement shows for a good buy.

Everyone is interested in the items.

"Going, going, going, Gone!" With the smack of the anvil and the brush of a pen in the records, another item was thrust in front of the eyes of the public at a great auction held in Maytag. With nearly everyone sighing when his "favorite item was sold to someone else," rugs, books, china, furniture, and even vacuum cleaners went up for bids. The professional auctioneers accomplished their job, and in the process the Student Union earned enough proceeds to replace a color television console in the Union.

Youth Conference 1975

"Imagine Christ" was the theme for the 1975 Youth Conference. It was selected from Matt. 16:15, when Jesus said, "Who do you think that I am?"

Each year Youth Conference has its own distinct personality and 1975 was no exception. Youth Conference co-chairmen Rick Olson and Claudia Wellen were held in suspense awaiting the arrival of the guest speaker, Paul Little, after the program had already started.

Everyone was invited to expound on the theme, particularly after being excited by the speaker and the events of the weekend.

Joe Romine and Walt Campbell clown in one of the skits.

Reactions of the audience were varied as Paul Little delivered his message.

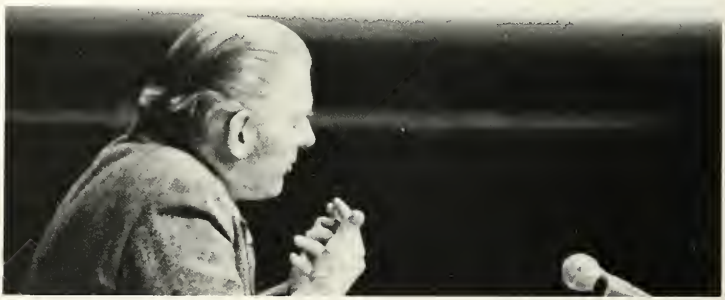
Finding lines this short was a rarity over the weekend.

Paul Little speaks to students concerning Christ.

Youth Conference is composed of several facets including publicity, registration, accommodations, discussion groups, altar counselors, music and art. Committees on the cabinet concentrate their efforts early in the year for an action-packed weekend for over 1,000 high school students and their sponsors.

Youth Conference is completely student-run and organized for a two-fold purpose. First, it attempts to present the person of Jesus Christ to the weekend guests and share with them the positive difference that He can make in their lives. Secondly, it brings the high school student to a college campus and then gives them a taste of what many of them will be experiencing in the years to come.

There were several memorable highlights of Youth Conference 1975. "Dog" and Claudia provided the audience with many laughs as they delivered announcements. Also included was an Oasis concert, an all-campus talent show, and afternoon games in the field house. As Rick Olson, conference co-chairman offered, "there was something for everyone, and it was the greatest in response, the best yet!"



The speaker reflects a particular emphatic moment.

"Memory play" is a popular activity around any college, and Taylor is no exception. With final exams approaching, the studying for some begins, and for others it merely intensifies. Numerous projects and term papers that were assigned at the beginning of the year are rushed towards completion.

For some students, studying would not be so difficult is they could locate the right atmosphere for "cracking the books." The library seems to be the most popular location, but just for that reason, some prefer a different location, while still some others settle into their room, waiting for their next study break.

Waiting for reference books is a popular pastime.

Taylor opens new sports facility

On the night of May 14th, the new physical education and sports gymnasium was officially open to public and student use. There were exhibition games from each sport for viewing with an invitation to explore the new building. The floor was a new discovery in that is is vinyl. Fall 1975 will see the first sporting events with the carry over of Taylor's winning tradition and spirit.

Taylathon 1975

Juniors win all-class competition

Although the weather left much to be desired, the rainy weekend in May did not dampen the spirit of the 1975 Taylathon. As well as being a time for rigorous class competitions, Taylathon also marked the close of a year's worth of point accumulation between classes. This year's Taylathon brought visitors and alumni back to campus. They were able to witness such skills of students in extemporaneous speaking, barber shop quartets, and paper-bag skits. Many found the key to success was in humor, talent, and daring ideas.

This year's relay events were won by the Sophomore class managing to win the egg-toss, the chow hounding, and the pie eating contest. Tennis, mixed volleyball, and couples softball also engaged many students in the competitive spirit.

Because of the rain, the bikathon was posponed until Monday. The Juniors swept the sixty-four lap race around the campus sidewalks to capture the class competition and final event.

Maytag becomes a memory . . .

It was fitting finale, and hard to believe that this was the final basketball game to be played in "magnificent Maytag." In perhaps their finest performance, the Taylor Trojans upset Hanover College, 82-78, in front of a standing-room only crowd. Winning has always been a tradition, and the Trojans were determined to finish in accordance with that tradition.

Maytag has always been an intimite part of Taylor, and its existence has always been connected with anything for the student body. Since its connection in 1928, it has been a showcase of athletic prowess from all over the world. But none will remember it better than those persons who contributed to its memory . . . .

Commencement Ceremonies

The 129th Commencement ceremonies at Taylor University were held on May 17, 1975, with many expectant and anxious seniors. The graduation ceremonies were the first to be held in the new physical education facility. With approximately 290 seniors receiving B.A. and B.S. in Education degrees, this marked the final event in a four year education at Taylor.

A time for inspiration was given by Dr. David L. McKenna, President of Seattle Pacific College, in the service of Baccalaureate. He spoke of the "Spirit of '75" and encouraged Christian scholarship. For Dr. Milo Rediger it was a special time as it commenced the closing chapter in his career as President of Taylor and marked the beginning of his new role as chancellor.

Gary Friesen, senior class representative, spoke at the afternoon commencement convocation. Honorary degrees were awarded to Leland Boren and the Reverend J.B. Kawet. Seniors were honored by the Alumni Association at a reception and banquet Friday night.

The 1974 Trojane spikers showed their skill by their final 12-5 season record. Mary Edna Glover, volleyball coach and instructor of physical education and health, termed the season as "the best ever." Highlighting the season were victories against Lake Michigan College and Hope College mid-way through the season. Two new teams, Anderson and Ball State were added to this year's schedule. In the state tourney, the Trojanes beat Goshen, but were eliminated from further competion after losses to Evansville and ISU.

Veteran players providing skill for the Trojanes were Andrea Walters, Jann Clevenger and senior captain Donna Vandermolen.

In the Indiana Women's State Tournament Winnie Lowrie, playing singles, went to the semi-finals. In doubles competition, Beth Wilson and Joann Woods advanced to semi-finals along with Joyce Franklin and Barb Kulp.

Lorraine Cameron, coach of the team and professor of physical education and health, expressed optimism for next year's squad. Linda Nelson was the only senior on the team and there were several freshman. Other members of the team included Marty Dillon, Susie Odle, Janet Pierce, Diane Tillman, Judy VanVleet, and Ruth Williams.

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

The 1974 field hockey team completed a successful season blemished only by losses to Indiana University and Purdue. The powerful Trojane offensive team outscored their opponents 33-17 and in seven of their ten games, the Trojanes more than doubled their opponent's score. Leading the offense with 22 of the season's 33 goals was senior Janet Lowrie. Seniors Nona Rumley and Sue Baur strengthened the squad with their offensive stick work. Seven Trojanes were placed on the Miami Valley squad. First team selections were Janet Lowrie (center forward), end Cyndee Beaver (left halfback), Anne Tapper (right wing), Sue Baur (right halfback), Carol Yehnert (center halfback) and Beth Wyse (goalie) were chosen for the second team. Sophomore Winnie Lowrie was selected as an alternate at the right halfback position. Miss Janet Lowrie had highest honors for the team as she was selected for the Great Lakes team.

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1974 Cross Country squad enjoyed another successful season by finishing second at the HBCC meet with Hanover capturing first place honors. This marked the first time Taylor has lost the championship in nine out of the last ten years. The Trojans came in first place out of seven teams in the NAIA District #21 meet. Bob Crabtree and Dave Lewis paced the Trojans with the most individual honors for the season.

Lewis turned in the best time of the year in the District championships. He finished second out of thirty runners with a time of 26:56. He also came in first in the Earlham meet for the Trojans and finished third in the HBCC meet.

Crabtree placed first for the Trojans four times during the season. He placed fourth in a meet with Butler and Calvin, twentieth in the Olivet College Classic, second in a meet with Manchester, and fifteenth out of 116 at the Taylor Invitational. His best personal time was 27:13 at the Olivet Classic.

The Trojans sent six runners to the Nationals at Salina, Kansas. These men were: Dave Lewis, Bob Crabtree, Mike Lehe, Tim Reusser, Ron Grogg and Steve Freese.

Seniors Dave Kaiser, Jim Slocum, and Tim Sorg were consistent runners all season for the Trojans.

Trojans begin season with new coach

The individual talent on the 1974 Trojan football team was not indicated in their final 4-4-1 record. Although the season began with a tie and four successive victories, the offense actually had a sputtering start until the Wilmington game when the rushing and passing game eventually came together.

"Although hindsight is easier, I learned a lot about our own personnel and expectations for next year," remarked Dr. Tom Carlson, new football coach and assistant professor of physical education and health.

Highlighting the season was a 31-10 trouncing of the Wilmington Quakers. In the next game against Earlham, the Trojans boasted 460 yards of offense and were ranked 14th in the nation. Reflecting on the drastic turn-around in the second half of the season, Dr. Carlson said that he had high hopes after the Earlham victory. "However, when things started to slide we just couldn't turn them around," he added.

Taylor was second in team offense in the HBCC behind Hanover with a 329.5 average, but turned a poor showing in team defense as they were only able to finish in the seventh place position.

Senior tight-end Mike Rich, first in the conference in pass receiving until the final game of the season, was the Trojans top receiver. His 37 catches for 549 yards and 5 TD's this season make him Taylor's finest receiver in its history. "He has exceptional hands and a good sense of how to run patterns correctly besides his speed being a threat," stated Dr. Carlson. For his offensive prowess, Rich was selected to the NAIA District 21 team.

Passing to Rich was senior QB Rod Shafer, who completed the season way out in front in the HBCC as their top passer despite an injury mid-way through the season. He was also selected to the NAIA District 21 team. For two years he has been an All-Conference quarterback selection. Shafer's 14 TD passes in the 1973 season still stands as an HBCC record.

The leading scorer for the season was senior kicker Eric Turner with 32 points. In his four year career at Taylor, he has had 62 extra points in 66 attempts and was chosen for the second consecutive year to the NAIA District team.

Underclassmen Kevin Butcher (offensive guard) and Gordon Pritz (defensive end) were also selected for the District team. Receiving honorable mention were: Dennis Hanson (center), Jeff Putnam (runningback), Miguel Gomez (defensive end), and Bill Martin (defensive back).

Seniors Greg Reugsegger, Mike Snider. Miguel Gomez and Bill Martin will be sorely missed next season for their defensive skills. Highlighting the year defensively was the Manchester game, especially in the fourth quarter, when the defense rose to the occasion to win the contest.

Graduation will also take its toll on the offense. Senior flanker Jim Brown and tight-end Jim Norris will be missed next season, too.

BASKETBALL

Unger goes up for a basket.

The Trojans home finale against Hanover was a fitting end for basketball in Maytag gymnasium. The cagers dealt the HBCC champion Panthers their second loss, 82-78 before a standing room only crowd. Taylor also handed the Panthers their first loss and broke their thirty-eight home game winning streak. Though the Trojans also defeated the second and third place team it was not enough, as they finished fourth in league competition with a 17-9 record. Other highlights of the 1974-75 campaign included back-to-back victories over rival Wheaton College, 78-75 and Anderson, 78-77. The Trojans concluded the season with the District 21 playoffs where they pounced on Bethel, 80-66, but were overpowered by Anderson, 91-77.

Captain Gary Friesen and junior "Sparky" Renaker led the team offensively. Friesen has played four years of varsity ball for Taylor and has been an all-conference selection for his last three years. This year he was chosen to represent the All-District NAIA team. Friesen averaged a healthy 17.7 points per game this season, besides bringing down 10.5 rebounds per game. His season high was 34 points against Bluffton. He has appeared in 108 basketball games for Taylor, which establishes a new school record. As a senior, Friesen will be sorely missed, but he will leave as one of Taylor's all-time outstanding athletes.

"Sparky" Renaker, who led the team with 18.3 points per game and a 1975 all-conference selection, will return with Randy Unger, Stan Daugherty, Jeff Meyer and freshman Rick Seaman.

The Junior Varsity team finished a successful campaign, blemished only by one loss to Purdue midway through the season. Coached by Sheldon Bassett, the team compiled an impressive 16-1 record.

Highlighting the 1974-75 campaign was a 76-73 victory over Ball State. This marks the second consecutive year the Trojans have defeated Ball State. Eleven freshmen and three sophomores competed on this year's squad. Phil Price led the team with 18.5 points per game.

The Trojane basketball team, led by captain Cindy Durr, completed a winning season with a final record of 8-7. They captured third place in the Southern District Tournament beating Indiana Central, Franklin and Earlham.

Norm prepares to haul down another one amidst defenders.

The Brotherhood enjoy that sweet victory as they claim A league championship.

The men await the rebound.

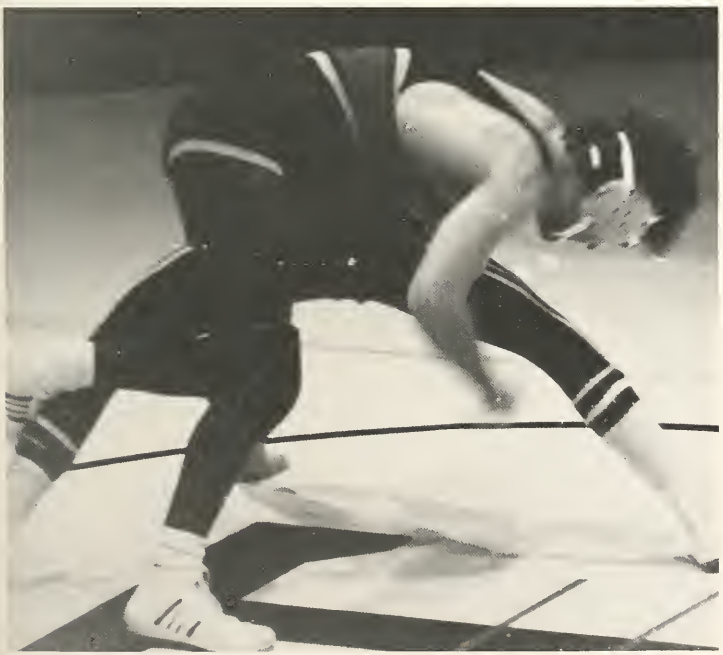
Members of the Brotherhood stand helplessly as 2nd West fires away.

Competition was especially keen during the February-March intramural basketball season. In the three basketball leagues, no team survived the season with an undefeated record. Second Wengatz West captured the regular season championship with an 11-1 record with Off-Campus notching a second place finish wtih a 10-2 record. These same two teams also dominated the "B" league with identical 11-1 records.

In the exciting post-season playoffs, the numerous fans were treated to some excellent basketball. The playoff championship was held on March 5, with an organ and the pep band to enliven the evening. In the "C" league competition Third Morris slipped by Off-Campus 27-24. Off-Campus took Second West 38-36 in the "B" league finals. In the last intramural basketball game ever to be played in Maytag, arch rivals Third Morris and Second West were once again fighting each other. Third Morris overcame an early Second West lead and held on for a hard fought 58-54 victory.

WRESTLING

Coach Jarman spends a rare breather conversing with friends.



A Taylor grappler uses legs to gain an obvious advantage.

The 1974-75 grapplers, led by Coach Tom Jarman, completed the season with a 12-3 record, narrowly missing the HBCC championship. Led by Todd Johnson, Cecil Bergen, Steve Muterspaw, and Glen Guerin, the team defeated the league champion, Defiance 20-17.

The matmen captured first place in the Indiana Central quadrangular with Xavier University, Wilberforce University, and Indiana Central. Second place honors belonged to the Trojans at the Taylor Invitational, where they competed against six and nine teams respectively. The Trojans captured a respectable third place in the Wheaton Invitational against 16 teams.

One highlight of the successful season was the National Tournament where the Trojans place ninth in the nation out of the 100 teams which entered. Competing with 425 wrestlers from across the country, Bergen (150 lbs.) and Johnson (190 lbs.) took fourth place honors, while Guerin (126 lbs.) placed fifth. These three wrestlers were further honored by being nominated as All-Americans.

Johnson, finishing the season with an outstanding 36-3 record, led the Trojans in individual wins (36), individual points (197½), and individual falls (20).

The 1974-75 team also established several new Taylor wrestling records which include: the most team points (1127½), the most team victories in a single season (211), and the most falls as a team (93).

BASEBALL

as his opponent expresses his amazement.

By sweeping a double-header from the Findlay Oilers on the final game of the season, the Trojans won the HBCC championship with an 11-5 conference record. The climactic victories, won 6-1 and 10-5, enabled the Trojans to go to the District 21 play-offs.

The Trojans, however, were defeated by Huntington 1-0 and Bethel 7-6 in the final competition. The Trojans narrowly took conference honors over rival Findlay who finished with a 10-5 record mainly because they were not forced to cancel any games due to weather. Anderson finished third in the conference behind Taylor and Findlay.

Strong bats all season for the Trojans were all-conference selection Stan Daugherty at short stop and Sam Eddy at left field. Eddy has been a valuable asset to this year's squad as he led the team in hitting with an impressive .398 season average. He also led the team in home-runs (5) and RBI's (25). Daugherty's speed enabled him to steal 15 bases, besides batting a healthy .266. Harry Albright added his .299 season average to help boost the team batting average to .258.

Senior Greg Ruegseggar was also selected to the All-conference team with a 7-4 record and a 2.39 ERA. Brad Hummel added considerable depth to the pitching staff as he finished the season with a 5-3 record.

After finishing fifth in the conference last season, the Trojans made an excellent comeback under the coaching of Dr. Carlson to capture the HBCC crown and conclude the year with a 17-13 record over-all.

GOLF

The 1974-75 Trojan golf team, coached by Don Odle, successfully defended last year's crown and won another HBCC championship. This marks four championships in the past five season.

This year's squad was led by Karl Smith and Sparky Renaker both of whom made the All-District team. Don Faimon shot an impressive 70 to help the Trojans defeat Manchester midway through the season. Steve Morris and Joe Himelick added their consistency to the championship team. Mel Hall served as the alternate.

In the districts at Indianapolis the Trojans captured third, while Franklin College took first place honors.

One again the Trojan netters dominated HBCC and District 21 play. It was the year of "tournament" play, to quote Sheldon Bassett, who for the years 1974 and 1975 has been District 21 Coach of the Year.

The Trojans swept all 36 points in conference play, winning all six divisions in singles, and the three flights in doubles. In Districts, the netters won by a comfortable margin as sophomore Brian McEachern and the duo of Chet LeSourd and Rick Seamen won singles and doubles, respectively. In the Little State Tournament, Taylor won convincingly over a field of ten or more colleges. Bassett summed it all up by wryly commenting: "We reached our potential when it was Tournament time."

During the season, the netters' record was 9-6. Some of the schools played included Kalamazoo, Purdue, Vanderbilt, East Tennessee State, and University of Toledo.

In June, the Trojans journeyed to the NAIA Nationals in Kansas City for the fifth year in a row.

The knee injury to Mark Rexroth was the only scar to an otherwise "perfect year."

Among the Trojans named to the All-Conference team are McEachern, LeSourd, Seamen, and Goad.

Compiling a season of 4-4, the Trojane softball team completed their second competitive season. Jann Clevenger took top honors in the batting department with a .444 average. Andrea Walters was a valuable asset offensively, as her speed allowed her ten stolen bases for the season. Pitcher Phyllis Vance compiled the winningest record and struck out 11 of the opposition.

The Trojane track team, coached by Mary Edna Glover, concluded the 1975 season on an optimistic note. Individual performances by Sue Baur, Carol Yehnert, and Cyndee Beaver highlighted the season. Baur, a senior, took firsts in the two mile, mile, and 440 relay. Yehner was successful in the 200 meter hurdles (35.5), 100 meter hurdles (18.3) and the 880 run (2:43.7). Lastly, Cyndee Beaver placed first in the 100 yard dash (11.6), and the long jump (14.2").

TRACK

The awesome 1975 Taylor track team took their ninth conference title in a row, scoring in 17 of the 18 events to easily defeat rival Findlay College. This marks the 11th championship in the last 12 seasons for the Trojans.

The final conference meet at Hanover College was a fitting ending to a successful season. The Trojans had 11 first place berths in 18 events, besides replacing five of the six new HBCC records which were set and several Taylor records.

Senior Steve Officer put in a phenominal performance at the HBCC meet by singly capturing four first places, breaking one Taylor record, one conference record, and tieing an HBCC and TU record. Officer led the Trojans in team scoring with a record-breaking 222 ⅜ points. This sets a new Taylor record for career points as Officer concluded a brilliant four years with a total of 719 ⅛ points.

Junior Steve Gradeless took first in the mile and the three mile. Senior Gary Freisen is one of three men in the state of Indiana to jump seven feet. This replaced the Taylor and HBCC record. John Good broke an HBCC record in the 440 yard Dash with a time of 49.1. Other firsts in the HBCC meet were Paul Brady in the 880 yard dash and the 440 relay team of Johnson, Moore, Eakins, and Officer.

Graduation will take its toll, as the team will lose seven seniors who have consistently performed for the squad.

PEOPLE

The Administrative Council studies the master plan of the University. Seated: Dr. Robert D. Pitts, Dean of the University; Dr. Milo A. Rediger, President. Standing: Mr. Samuel L. Delcamp, Vice President for Development; Pastor William J. Hill, Director of Student Ministries; Mr. William H. Davis, Vice President for Business Affairs; Mr. Thomas G. Beers, Dean of Students.

Administrative Council and President prepare for change

During the many activities of the school year, the University is always under the guidance of her leaders. The Administrative Council and the President function well as a team to lead the University to her fullest potential. For many years now, Dr. Milo Rediger has lead the Council in its responsibilities. Next year as he takes on the new role of Chancellor, he hands over the job to Dr. Robert Baptista. This year Drs. Rediger and Baptista have been spending time together going over the many duties and functions that Dr. Rediger has held for the past ten years.

Dr. Robert C. Baptista, President elect of the University, talks with Dr. Rediger concerning matters dealing with his new role for next year.

Drs. Rediger and Baptista stop to chat with Carolyn Sparks.

Philosophy and Religion provide foundation for further growth

The Philosophy and Religion Department focuses attention in five major areas: Religious studies, Philosophy, Philosophy of Religion, Bible Literature, and Christian Education. Possibilities after graduation include seminary, law school, graduate studies and various church ministries. Christian Education majors serve in the Bahamas in January, while additional opportunities exist in TWO, Youth Conference, and various other campus ministries throughout the year.

Speech Majors Develop Talents

The curriculum of the Speech and Drama Department provides its majors with a wide range of studies in order to better develop their talents in oral interpretation, self expression, debate, drama, techniques, set design, production, and communication. This year, the cast of Religious Drama and the Trojan Players put on many successful productions including THE TROJAN WOMEN, THE NIGHT THOREAU SPENT IN JAIL, ALICE IN WONDERLAND, and THE CREATION. The Religious Drama Company toured Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio during spring break to present an original production by James Oosting entitled "For the Sake of Clarity." Two one act plays, which were student directed, highlighted the fall semester.

Music majors give recitals

Senior recitals provide music majors excellent opportunity for utilizing all knowledge acquired during the college career. For several years, Taylor students and faculty have been entertained by the accomplishments of the senior majors. Other majors in the field find expression for developing their talent by participating in various concerts given by the chorale and oratorio, as well as participating in the band and orchestra. Faculty in the department are often called upon to present recitals for the Taylor Community.

Teachers train for future

Taylor's Elementary Education department stresses practical knowledge combined with preparedness to future teachers with exceptional training for their chosen profession. Student teaching provides each elementary junior with two experiences usually done at a different grade level. Dual experiences help the student teacher become flexiable enough to teach all elementary grades. Senior capstone, which is a collective reading project usually done with one child, and an advanced methods course is taken during student teaching.

Science majors develop practical viewpoints

The Biology and Chemistry departments require their students to establish a solid foundation of practical experience paired with extensive knowledge in their individual fields in order to become ready for professions in various areas.

The AuSable field station, near Mancelona, Michigan, provides experiences which are beneficial to all students who participate. Members of the Conservation class in the fall spend four days at the station.

System Program adds depth

Math and Physics majors are prepared for their future vocations by the intensive instruction provided by the department staff. Research and education are primary areas emphasized with the computer center and the new systems program allowing extensive specialized study. Math club promotes extra curricular interest by featuring math games and movies, guest lecturers, projects and informal sharing experiences.

The Social Studies Department, which is comprised of Political Science, Geography, and History, offers majors a new perspective which allows them to better and more clearly understand and evaluate the environment around them. In addition to this, practical experience is gained by internship in federal offices as well as trips to historic sites and museums.

Foreign Language

Communication, recognized as the vital link between people is developed in the modern language department. The department offers a major in French, as well as courses in Spanish and German which can be selected to complete liberal arts requirements. Non-majors desiring a B.A. degree are required to have two years of a language. Majors spend memorable times travelling and studying, promoting increased personal awareness and understanding of other cultures and providing the means to overcome communication barriers near and far. Two students spent the fall semester studying abroad.

Business and Economics Department

The Business Department provides an opportunity for students to learn the in's and out's of the business world from an academic as well as a practical point of view. The courses offered in the business as well as the economic curriculum try to integrate this concept into the minds of the students. During the January Interterm the senior business majors traveled to Chicago for a week to observe and be involved in the daily operations of a world trade center. During this week many had the opportunity to see the theory of the classroom being used successfully in the "real" world. Despite the fact that the personnel in the department is at an all time low the faculty and students work together to provide for yet another successful year with well over one hundred majors in the program. Through their four years at Taylor the majors strive to prepare themselves for a bright future in the world of business.

P.E. department develops whole person

"Sound body—sound mind" sums up the emphasis of the Physical Education Department. The department provides many opportunities for development of the whole individual including eight inter-collegiate sports for men, seven inter-collegiate sports for women, intramurals, Taylathon, and Pemm Club. These experiences prepare majors for future careers in teaching, coaching, physical therapy, camping, and recreation.

The P.A. staff seeks to make the living-learning process more comfortable in the dormitory. The staff of 54 P.A.'s began the 1974-75 year with a three-day session before the freshmen and new students arrived on campus. The fall semester featured a three-hour class which covered a variety of topics with a wide range of guest speakers and panel discussions. Rev. Don Engram returned to campus after Spiritual Emphasis Week to present a two-day marriage seminar for all P.A.'s.

Theater enriches community

This year the Speech and Drama Department produced three plays for the enjoyment and cultural enrichment of the Taylor community. In the fall Jessie Rousselow directed "The Trojan Women." In the spring semester Linda Kukuk gave us "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" and Jim Oosting brought back our childhood memories with "Alice in Wonderland."

T-CLUB

The T-Club is an organization of varsity lettermen who have come together to serve the athletic department, the Taylor community, and the Upland community. Members in the past have had to participate in an initiation to be inducted into the club. The T-Club member is recognized by the letter jacket, which he receives upon joining the club.

PEMM

It is the purpose of P.E.M.M. (Physical Education Majors and Minors) Club to sponsor athletic events and other activities during the year for the entire student body. These activities include: an annual fall retreat for their members, guest speakers throughout the year; and Taylathon in the spring.

Another goal is to help their members become more familiar with their field; this is accomplished through attendance at various clinics and conventions throughout the year.

WRA

Women's Recreation Association is for non-physical education majors interested in athletic competition. This year the activity was basketball. The teams were divided according to wings in the residence halls.

TROJAN PLAYERS

The 1974-75 year for Trojan Players proved to be an exciting and informative year. The month of October began with a Greek supper complete with togas, laurel wreaths, and sandles. The supper set the scene for the University Production of TROJAN WOMEN.

In February the Players also sponsored the induction of new members into the group implementing the theme of "Return to the 20's."

Finally, the highlight of the year was the formation of the Offstage Studio. This is an improvisational theatre exercise group that meets regularly to experiment with extra-curricular acting techniques.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatics fraternity. Each year students who have exhibited academic excellence and have made an outstanding contribution to Taylor University Theatre are elected. This election is recognized at a formal induction service. Although this fraternity is strictly honorary, it does provide an opportunity for Taylor theatre to link itself to college theatre experiences on a national spectrum.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA S. Harrison, M. Jones, J. Oosting, L. Kukuk.

ALPHA PI IOTA

Alpha Pi Iota, the medical professions club, is an organization consisting of students preparing to enter the fields of medicine, dentistry, nursing, and medical technology. The purpose of this club is to provide opportunities for students who share the same asperations, frustrations, and challenges in their pursuit of the various medical related fields. Insights to these fields are another objective of the club.

Various speakers addressing the club included physicians, a medical student, a medical technologist, and a physician's assistant. Medical films were also shown throughout the year.

BUSINESS M. Rupp—Treasurer, M. Steiner—President, J. Ahlseen—Vice President, G. McCrae, G. Ruegsegger, W. Feece—Secretary, B. Sauer, J. Forge.

BUSINESS

This years club was composed of the Senior Business and Economics majors. Fruit basket sales in the fall sponsored by the club helped finance the Business Capstone trip to Chicago. The club sponsored a banquet in May. The guest speaker was Dr. Gregg Lehman, a former member of the Business Department faculty.

WHEELS GO TO FLORIDA

During the Spring Break, Wandering Wheels sponsored a trip from T.U. to the northern west coast of Florida. There were many stops in the state, and each one provided "Wheels" with a chance to share their unique program and their personal faith in Christ.

Since its conception in 1964 under the direction of Bob Davenport, "Wheels" has expanded to include longer trips abroad, weekend trips all over the U.S. and tours scheduled to coincide with the school calendar, such as Inter-term, Spring Break, winter and summer trips to Europe.

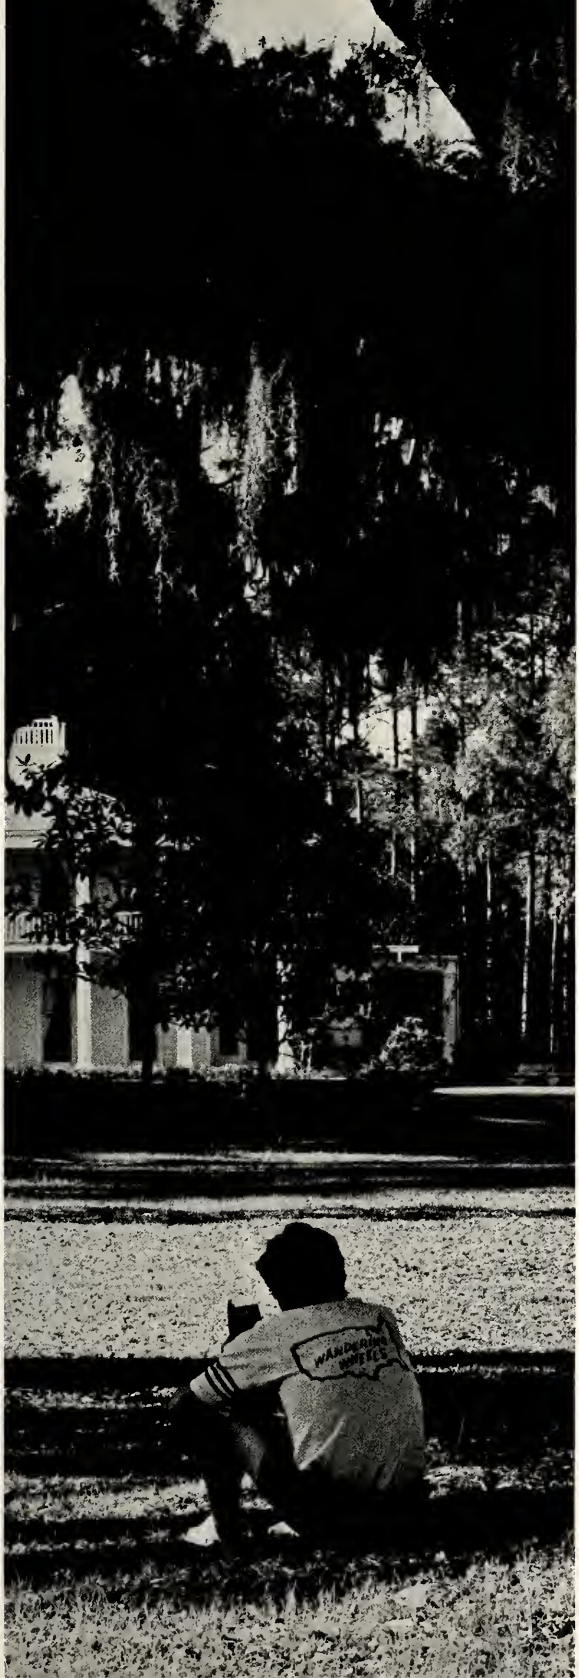
Inter-term "Wheels" pose in Florida.



Pete Dybvad gives a hand with the Coppertone to Sue Frazier.

SPANISH

Over the years the Spanish Club has been interested particularly in providing students with an interesting and meaningful club experience. Along with regular monthly meetings, its activities have ranged from showing internationally acclaimed films, hosting neighborhood and college clubs and arranging campsite cook-outs with Spanish oriented fellowship.

The Spanish Club has been most noted for its Club Field Day on campus which attracts hundreds of high school students to Taylor each year. Visitors from Indiana and Ohio high schools vie for awards given for excellence in speaking, singing, reading, and skit acting in Spanish.

GERMAN

The purpose of German Club is to familiarize the students with the culture of Germany. To help with this goal, excursions were taken to Indianapolis with dinner at the Heidleburg Restaurant. One attribute of the club is that it provides a casual and relaxed atmosphere in which learning can take place.

GERMAN Back row: B. Kerlin, P. Graham, H. House—Advisor, S. Marsh, G. Metzenbacher. Front row: S. Ny S. Healy.

FRENCH

The French Club participates in a variety of activities throughout the year. They attended the play Le Ron Se Meurt by Ionesco, which was performed by professional French actors. Also, they dined at a unique French restaurant in the spring.

Two students spent the fall semester studying in France; the experiences they share with the club aid in understanding French culture.

INTERNATIONAL

These students represent many foreign countries. They are either internationals or children of missionary parents and have spent most of their lives, until college, experiencing the customs and culture of a country other than the United States.

Each of these students is wealthy in terms of experience, knowledge and opportunity gained from his respective heritage. They share this wealth with others in the community and thus stimulate growth and understanding.

Community Action Council

The Community Action Council is an organization consisting of the leaders of a wide variety of outreach programs on the Taylor campus. The organizations that comprise the council are designed for the purpose of providing ministering tools for students to use in involving themselves in the lives of others in the community and the world. This concern for others has prompted Taylor University to coordinate the efforts of the following organizations by means of this council: Children's Home Volunteer program, Big Sister Program, Campus Life, Encounter, Good News Club, Gospel Teams, Taylor World Outreach, Taylor Youth Clubs, a tutoring service, Young Life, and H.E.L.P. (Helping Everyone's Life Prosper).

Admissions Student Staff

Selected students are hired each year to work with the Admissions Office. Admissions student staff spend time with visiting high school students and occasionally travel to represent the college at conventions, church programs and area receptions.

P. Carlson—Advisor, J. Garrett, B. Hobbs, D. Sommers, J. Flaherty, C. Sparks—Advisor.

BLACK CULTURAL SOCIETY

The Black Cultural Society is an organization geared toward the social and spiritual aspects of Taylor's black students. Its main purpose is to create more unification with the Taylor student body. Some of its goals are a black scholarship fund for incoming Taylor students, and a study co-op program with each other.

DEMOCRATS

The college Democrats actively participated in the congressional election of 1974, by campaigning for the democratic candidates. Their aim is to promote the democratic candidates and aid in their election. This goal was realized in overwhelming nation-wide victories of democratic candidates.

INTER-CLASS COUNCIL

The Interclass Council, composed of class officers, directs communication between the students and administration. Class day, Taylathon, and other interclass competition are a part of the responsibilities of the council. The group works hard to communicate administrative policy to the Taylor student body and also voice the sentiment of the students to the administration. It is an organization dedicated to service and is an important link in student representation.

SEA OFFICERS K. Roesch—program planner, K. Rudolph—Vice President, S. Berwager—President. N. Shepson—Secretary, C. Luellen—Treasurer, M. Winkler—Reporter.

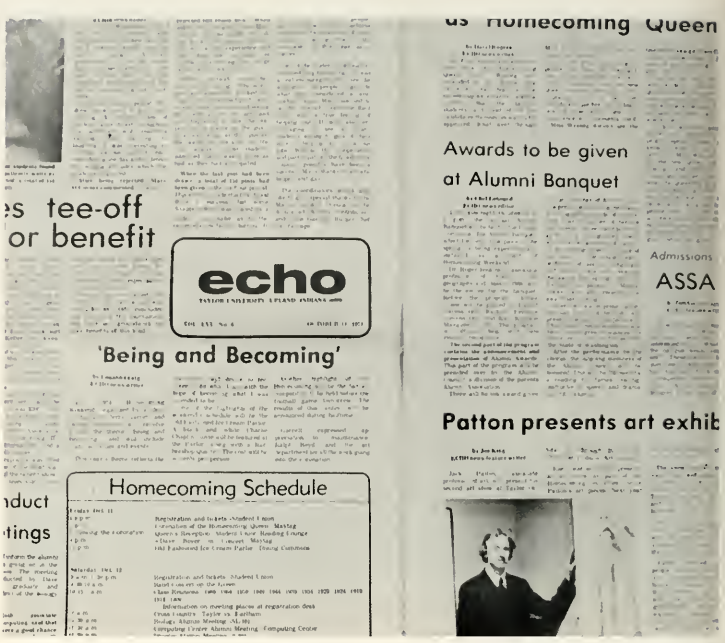
STUDENT EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

SEA is a professional organization for teachers which offers a variety of activities for the future teacher. Membership in the organization is open to all perspective teachers and includes a monthly education magazine. Meetings inform the student about new teaching methods, teaching the underprivileged child, and listening to the experiences of other Taylor student teachers.

The Echo Staff

The Echo is not just a newspaper; it is also a group of students who are interested in working together to create a written expression of what they and other students are doing, saying and thinking.

Quality is achieved mainly by hard work. Production of a weekly newspaper actually begins weeks in advance of an issure when the editor selects the news and feature items that will be covered. Actual work for a specific issue begins on Monday night when each writer submits his copy to be proofread by the editor and other copy readers. On Tuesday and Wednesday the copy is set in long strips called galleys at the printer's, and it is then proofread again. Thursday the galleys are pasted on layout sheets, headlines are added, ads are made up and the newpaper goes to press. The completed paper is delivered to students Friday evening.



A sample of the staff's hard work is the newspaper.

Alathea Coleman readies a layout for the printer.

Alathea is off to the printer to pick up the papers.

Jerry Garret ponders a problem in the photography.

STUDENT UNION BOARD

The Student Union Board is an organization for the students. The ten member committee meets each Monday to discuss upcoming events, students' reaction towards past activities and suggestions or comments on new ideas for activities. This year SUB sponsored a variety of movies and mini-concerts, besides roller skating parties, swimming parties, bowling, ice cream socials, cartoons, weekend trips, the Christmas banquet, Valentine Dating game, busses to away basketball games and pool tournaments.

They also purchased a new electric ping pong game for the Union and a television set. Highlighting January was the Inter-term break trip to Colorado. Since communication with students is a vital part of SUB, they encourage students to communicate their desires with them.

Student government is a student organizing body which seeks to gather and communicate student ideas to the faculty and administration. The organization consists of a senate, executive officers, and student committees. The senate is composed of representatives from each of the residence halls in a ratio of one representative per 100 students. The main objectives of the Senate are to monitor student ideas and opinions as well as to convey them to the proper channels.

HOMECOMING

Centered around the theme "Being and Becoming," this year's Homecoming reflects the desire to feel "Free to be what I am with the hope of becoming what I was intended to be." Homecoming 1974 began with a fireworks pep rally. Homecoming Queen Jenny Wysong was crowned Friday evening. Ms. Wysong's court included princesses Virginia Taylor, Ann Starkey, Lori Granitz, Marian Snider, Jeanine Flaherty, Shelle Martin, Nanette Kennedy. Following the Coronation, alumni and students could attend the Dave Boyer concert and the Old Fashioned Ice Cream Social.

Saturday's activities began with a Band Concert on the green along with class reunions. Sports highlights included Taylor defeating Earlham in Cross-country and football. Homecoming festivities ended with Alumni Honors Banquet.

YOUTH CONFERENCE

The 41st annual Youth Conference centered its theme around Matthew 16:15. To "Imagine Christ" is first of all to know him, which was the major emphasis of the weekend. Over 1,100 High School students and adult sponsors attended this years event.

Co-Chairmen Rick Olson and Claudia Wellen, along with 35 cabinet members, worked toward making the week-end one of spiritual growth and an opportunity to take a closer look at the life of Christ. Paul E. Little was the speaker for this years conference; Mr. Little is Assistant to the President of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. In addition to his activities with IVCF, he serves as Associate Professor to Evangelism in the School of World mission at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, in Deerfield, Illinois.

IVCF

The members of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meet together to encourage one another in Christian discipleship through prayer and small group Bible studies. Through our fellowship we seek to "Walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, to please Him in all respects, bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God." Col. 1:10.

Christian Action Fellowship is a group of students who meet weekly for fellowship through Bible study and prayer, besides participating in outreach programs which include supporting an Indonesian child, visiting shut-ins, service projects, and retreats.

The Ilium Staff

Under the leadership of Editor in Chief, Karen Gilbride, the 1974-75 Ilium staff attempts to piece together the activities of the school year. Many long evenings extending into the early morning hours are spent correlating materials to meet the deadline dates.

The year in pictures is a chance to reflect upon the year gone by and perhaps see yourself in a somewhat nostalgic view of the events throughout the year. The Ilium attempts to do this and permanently record those memories for a future nostalgic gaze into school times.

It is Friday night around three in the morning. Finals are over and the campus is quiet. The Ilium is almost finished for another year. One may wonder as to what really goes into a yearbook and what people strive to achieve in producing a book. The things that go into a yearbook are not always what are seen by the reader who has just received his crackling copy of the Ilium. Intangable things such as time, effort, frustration and love are all part of what goes into producing the Ilium. As for goals, my goals are varied and have different meanings. One of the goals that I tried to achieve was to incorporate the total Taylor Community into the book. Often the focus is given only to the students and faculty, forgetting the others that contribute to making Taylor the place that it is, such as Ralph in maintenance, Helen at the grill, security and the many children that are around.

The theme of the book is light and the One Who is the light. Then after that there is my own personal hope. And that hope is that this book may reflect the glory of Jesus Christ. Then the responsibility falls on me. If the book is to reflect Christ then it can only happen if He is reflected in the lives of the people involved. There are areas in which I have acheived and many more where I have failed but the grace of God has come through again.

There are many people that I feel I would like to thank for their contributions to the book. Mrs. Marilyn Walker and Dr. Roger Jenkinson have given their help and time to the staff and myself whenever we have needed it.

Also, thanks to Mr. Larry Glase, our representative from Paragon Yearbooks, as well as those around us such as Mr. Larry Miller who took the color for the theme. Mr. Will Cleveland whose negatives were always a beautiful sight to behold when we were running out of pictures was help, along with Dan Boyd. Then there is Mr. Norm Cook who took all those class portraits. Our thanks also to the Hartford City News times for the picture of Alathea. And lastly there is Lavonna who was always there with a smile and an encouraging word for us. To these people my special thanks is given.

There are two people that I would like to give my special thanks to. The first of those is Ms. Karen Davis who unknowingly inspired me to do this book and to put out the best book that I could. Of course the other person is Steve Anderson whom I thank for not only doing all the photography but also for caring for me and helping me through this hard year. To him, my love.

Without the Staff this book would not be possible. I also appreciated the help of my stray friends along the way such as Buzz, Frank, Brenda, Chet, who have been there when we needed them the most. To all of you, my deepest gratitude. It is a good book, friends. Thanks to you all.

In our Lord,

Karen

Lightening sparks through the night striking fear in those who do not understand. Yet when light is understood, it can be a friend to help us see and give us warmth.

"And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and for years:
And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.
And God make two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.
And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,
And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good."

Genesis 1: 14-18 KJV

Without light there is no growth.
Open your heart to the light and grow.
